

STEPHEN MAIN HOUSE 1 WYASSUP ROAD

The Stephen Main House was first owned by Luther Avery in 1781, the owner of Avery Mills. Stephen Main, born in North Stonington on June 8th, 1805, went to New York City at age 17 where he ran a very successful butter stall and became an extensive dealer in real estate. Stephen returned to North Stonington in 1856 and ran a grist and shingle mill. He bought the house in 1861.

The house was later owned by artist Fred Stewart Greene, who lived in North Stonington, Westerly, and also had a studio in Clearwater, FL. His will left the property to "Ezekiel Main and William Stewart Memorial Association." It was deeded in 1980 to the North Stonington Historical Society. It now serves as their headquarters and houses the A. Morgan Stewart Memorial Library.

